Good morning, IS 201! My name is Aila from class 813, and I'm here with you on this Thoughtful Thursday on behalf of the SEAL Team, the Social Awareness Leadership Team here at IS 201!

Today is National Color Day!

Colors are all around us, and they can make our day brighter, express our personalities, and bring a little creativity into our lives. So today, take a moment to notice the colors around you or maybe even wear your favorite color!

Whether you love bright red, calming blue, cheerful yellow, or any color in between, let's celebrate what makes each of us unique and bring some color into our school community.

The affirmation of the day is, "I believe my voice matters.."

Thank you for listening and have a Technicolor Thursday 😊
